AS the Peers of England are not only an Ornament to the Kingdom, but an hereditary Branch of the Legislature, and have generally arrived at these Honours by their superior Merit; a SHORT VIEW of their respective Families will probably be an agreeable Entertainement to every British Subject, and may induce others to imitate those Virtues which have rendered them and their Ancesters so conspicuous in the Eye of the World. I have drawn up, therefore, as full, and yet as concise, an Account of the present Nobility, and their near Relations, as was consistent with my design'd Brevity, that it might fall into every Hand, and contribute to revive the Memory of those glorious Actions which raised their Ancestors to those Dignities their Posterity now inherit. What the Success of this Attempt may be, must be left

If I have been misinformed, or mistaken, in any Instance, where I could not have access to the Family, the Reader will be favourable in his Censure, when he considers the Extensiveness of the Plan, and the numerous Enquiries necessary to be made in a Work of this Nature.

The late Earl Thomas was one of the worthiest and most benevolent Noblemen that ever adorned the British Peerage. He made it his Business to enquire out the most deserving but distressed Families in the Counties of Kent and Suffex, where his Estate chiefly lay, and distributed among them fifteen hundred Pounds a Year, besides what his Countess gave, which was very considerable. His Oeconomy and regular Conduct in his Family were the Admiration of all that were acquainted with it. He would neither suffer his own Servants to drink to Excess, or to make other Gentlemens Servants drink too much; and, what was almost peculiar to him, he would not permit any of his Servants to take Money of Gentlemen that visited him.

The Relation of this extraordinary and well-placed Bounty the Writer of these Sheets had from his Steward.

This noble Family is descended from Elsege de Toketon, alias Tufton, Lord of the Manors of Sileham in the County of Kent, and of Tufton in the County of Suffex, who flourished in the Reign of King John, and from whom descended John Tufton, Esq, whose Residence was at Hothfield in Kent. 4. The Honourable William Montagu, Commander of a Man of War, who made several valuable Prizes in the late War. He married Miss Naylor, Daughter of ——— Naylor, Esq; Anno 1748.

This noble Family being a Branch of the late Duke of Montagu's, derive their Pedigree from Drogo de Monteacuto, who came into England with William the Conqueror.

Sir Sidney Montagu, Great Grandfather of the late Earl, was constituted Master of the Court of Requests in the Reign of King Charles I, and was elected Knight of the Shire for the County of Huntingdon, in 1640; but was expelled the House for refusing to take an Oath the House had framed for their Members, That they would live and die with their General the Earl of Essex.

Sir Edward Montagu, his Son, was born July 27, 1625, and had a Commission from the Parliament, in 1643, to raise a Regiment of a thousand Men, in the County of Cambridge, which he raised accordingly, and was in most of the considerable Actions in that War, particularly at Naseby, in 1645, behaving with that Gallantry, that he was advanced to the Command of Brigadier-General the same Year, when he was two and twenty Years of Age. He was afterwards appointed with Desborough to execute the Office of High Admiral, and was joined with Blake in the Command of the Fleet, after whose Death he had the sole Command, and the Address, as well as the Honour, of bringing the whole Fleet to submit to King Charles II. and thereupon set sail with them to the Coast of Holland, in order to convoy his Majesty King Charles II. to England, whereby he contributed no less than General Monk to the Restoration of that Prince: And his Majesty, at his Arrival in England, constituted him one of the Knights of the Most Noble Order of the Garter; and on the 13th of July, the same Year, 1660. in the 35th Year of his Age, created him Baron Montagu of St. Neots in Hunting-

Huntingdonshire, Viscount Montagu, and Earl of Sandwich; he was also made Master of the King's Wardrobe, Admiral of the narrow Seas, and Lieutenant-Admiral to his Royal Highness the Duke of York, Lord High Admiral of England. He was afterwards appointed his Majesty's Proxy at the Espousals of the Princess Donna Catharina, the Daughter of Don Pedro, King of Portugal, and had the Honour of conveying that Princess to England, Anno 1662. He had a great Share in the Victory obtained over the Dutch at Sea, on the 3d of June, 1665, where eighteen of the Enemy's capital Ships were taken, and fourteen more destroyed, and Admiral Opdam blown up. He afterwards took eight Dutch Men of War, Two East-India Men, and twenty Sail of other Merchantmen. On another Cruise he took four Dutch Men of War, and several Merchantmen.

He was appointed Embassador Extraordinary to the Court of Spain, Anno 1666, to mediate a Peace between the Courts of Spain and Portugal, which he effected.

He was Vice-Admiral under the Duke of York in the Sea-fight off Southwold-Bay, May 28, 1672, where he contributed greatly to the Victory obtained that Day; but died fighting bravely in the Service of his Country. Bishop Parker, in the History of his own Times, relating this Engagement, says, The Earl of Sandwich having shattered seven of the Enemy's Ships, and beat off three Fire-ships, at length overpowered, fell a Sacrifice to his Country. A Gentleman adorned with all the Virtues of Alcibiades, and untainted by any of his Vices; capable of any Business; full of Wisdom; a great Commander at Sea and Land; learned, eloquent, affable, liberal, and magnificent.

THE Right Honourble HENRY HYDE, Earl of CLARENDON and Rochester, Viscount Cornbury, and Hyde of Kennelworth, Baron Hyde of Hindon, and Baron of Wotton-Basset, succeeded his Father Laurence, the late Earl, Anno 1711, and married Jane, Daughter of Sir William Lewison Gower, and Sister to John late Lord Gower, and by her, who died Anno 1725, had Issue, one Son and five Daughters:

1. Henry, his Son, now Earl of Clarendon and Rochester.

2. Lady

PEERAGE of ENGLAND. 77

1. Lady Anne, who married to James Duke of Ormond, and died without Issue, in January, 1684.

3. Lady Henrietta, married to James Earl of Dalkeith, eldest Son of James Duke of Monmouth.

4. Lady Mary, married February 17, 1703, to Francis Seymour Conway, late Lord Conway.

5. Catharine, who died unmarried in July, 1737.

And the Lady Henrietta, their Mother, dying in April, 1687, his Lordship lived near twenty-three Years a Widower, and died the 2d of May, 1711.

This noble Lord is descended from Sir Robert Hyde, of Hyde, in the County of Chester, who flourished in the Reign of King Henry III. Sir Nicholas Hyde was of this Family, who was Lord Chief Justice of the King's-Bench in the Reign of King Charles I. But none of the Ancestors of this noble Family have done more Honour to it than Sir Edward Hyde, who, for his eminent Services towards the Crown and State, was advanced to the Post of Lord Chancellor of England, and created Earl of Clarendon.

This Nobleman was remarkable for his Fidelity to King Charles I. and appointed to attend the Prince his Son (afterwards King Charles II.) during his Exile; of whose Services that Prince was so sensible, especially in the Part he acted to bring about the Restoration, which is in a great Measure justly ascribed to the Wisdom of this Minister. He possessed the Post of Lord Chancellor for seven Years with great Applause; tho' he was dismissed with some Disgrace, and an Impeachment preferred against him, almost as destitute of Truth, or even Probability, as the Charge in a Bill in Chancery; for they charged him with intending to raise an Army to govern arbitrarily, and advising the King to lay aside Parliaments, with saying, that his Majesty was a Papist, or popishly affected: That he had received great Sums for procuring the Canary Patent (for monopolizing the Wine imported from the Canaries) and other illegal Patents; and granting illegal Injunctions for staying Proceedings at Law against them: That he had gained a greater Estate than he could lawfully have done in so short a Time ; and, contrary to his Oath, had procured several Grants of Lands from the Crown : That he had advised and effected the Sale of Dunkirk ; That he had drawn into Question the Titles of Estates at the Council-board : That he had caus'd Quo Warrantos to be issued against most of the Corporations, and taken Money for renewing their Charters : That he had betrayed his Majesty and the Kingdom in foreign Negotiations relating to the War ; and that he was the Author of that fatal Advice of dividing the Fleet in the Year 1666.

Whereupon the Earl retired into France ; but left an Apology behind him, directed to the House of Peers, wherein he shews, That his Estate was neither large, nor unjustly acquired : That he never transacted any thing without the Concurrence of the Council : That for the last two Years, he had not had the Direction of any Affairs.

That the Misfortunes of the Kingdom had proceeded from the War, which he had always declared against, there being no Alliances formed ; and as he abhorred the entering into the War, he never gave any Advice for the Management of it.

That he had indeed opposed the Payment of the Seamen by Tickets, which had added to the Expence, for which his Enemies had inveighed against him, reviling his Councils, and turning all things serious and sacred into Ridicule : That the Office he held had obliged him to obstruct many Mens Pretensions, and refuse the Seal to many Pardons, and other profitable Grants, which had raised him many Enemies : That he had been charged with advising his Majesty to dissolve the Parliament, and thereby exposed to the Rage and Fury of the People, which induced him to withdraw from so powerful a Persecution, in hopes he might hereafter appear and make his Defence. Whereupon his Lordship went over to Rouen in Normandy, where he resided as long as he lived, an Act having pass'd for his Banishment.

The Friends of this noble Lord suggested, that his Disgrace proceeded from his Steadiness to the Con-

Constitution. They observe, that both Papists and Dissenters were his Enemies, for his opposing a Toleration; and that many of the Cavaliers were disgusted because no Provision, or a very slender one, was made for them who had lost all in the Service of King Charles I. while those who were the greatest Enemies to the Crown were loaded with Honours and Preferments, and taken into the Administration: That not only the Saints, but Libertines, were his Enemies, who being joined with the Ladies of the Court in misrepresenting his Actions, it was impossible for him to defend himself against their united Malice. He is accused, indeed, of a haughty supercilious Behaviour, and not indulging the Humour of that gay Court, who, to be even with him, turn'd all his Actions into Ridicule, and in a manner droll'd him out of his Majesty's Favour; while others laid all his Majesty's Distresses, as well as those of his Friends the Cavaliers, at the Chancellor's Door. He had it in his Power, they observed, at the Restoration, to have procured to his Majesty a much more ample Revenue, and to have provided for the indigent Cavaliers. On the other Hand, others applaud his Frugality, and pretend, that if he had made a larger Provision for the Crown, Parliaments would have become useless, and the Constitution had been ruined. As to bringing some of these Gentlemen into the Administration, who had opposed the Crown, they had been instrumental in the Restoration, and great Promises made them, no doubt, and had those Engagements not been performed, it might have been difficult to have established his Majesty upon the Throne; but why he did not make a Provision for those indigent Cavaliers, who had lost or ventured their All in the King's Service, is not so easily accounted for. After all, he appears to have been a very great and good Minister; never any Objection has been made to his Character as a private Gentleman, or a Chancellor; and as little to his Character, as a public Minister, as ever was made to one who was engaged so long in the Administration in such difficult Times. His excellent History of the Civil Wars. deserves to be gratefully remember'd by every Englishman, as it is the best Piece of English History now extant.

Lady Anne Scot, born in April, 1696. And,

5. Lady

5: Lady Charlotte Scot, born April 30, 1697, who both died unmarried.

James Duke of Monmouth and Buccleuch, Grandfather of the present Duke of Buccleuch and Earl of Doncaster, was the eldest Son of King Charles II. by Mrs. Lucy Walters, Daughter of Richard Walters, Esq; and was born at Rotterdam, in Holland, April 9, 1649, and went by the Name of James Crofts until his Majesty's Restoration. In the Year 1662, the King sent for him over into England, and an Apartment was assigned him in Whitehall. The next Year the King created him Baron of Tindale, Earl of Doncaster, and Duke of Monmouth, and made him Knight of the Most Noble Order of the Garter. The same Year, 1663, he married the Lady Anne, sole Daughter and Heir of Francis Earl of Buccleuch, one of the greatest Fortunes in Great Britain. Upon this Marriage he took the Name of Scot, and they were created Duke and Duchesse of Buccleuch in Scotland. He was appointed Master of the Horse to his Majesty, Anno 1665, and Captain of the Life-Guards, in 1668; and on the Death of his Grace the Duke of Albemarle, Anno 1669, he was constituted General of his Majesty's Forces, Lord-Lieutenant of the East-Riding of Yorkshire, Governor of the Town and Citadel of Hull, and Chief Justice in Eyre of all his Majesty's Forests and Chases South of Trent; and in 1672, he was constituted Lord High Chamberlain of Scotland.

The same Year 1672, he commanded the six thousand English and Scots, which joined the French Army on the Frontiers of Holland, and was constituted Lieutenant-General of the Forces of Lewis XIV. being present at the taking of Rhineburgh, Doesburgh, and Zutphen, and at the Réduction of Utrecht, where the French King kept his Court some Time. In the Year 1673, he was at the Siege of Maestricht, and commanded at the Attack of the Counterscarp. The Town being taken, the Duke with the British Forces withdrew, it not being thought for the Interest of
England

England to assist the French in making an entire Conquest of the United Provinces.

The Duke was elected Chancellor of the University of Cambridge in 1674; and as he had formerly commanded the Forces sent to the Assistance of the French against the Dutch, he made a Campaign under the Prince of Orange, in the Year 1678, against the French, and was at the Attack of the Abbey of St. Dennis.

The Field Conventiclers in Scotland breaking out into Rebellion, in the Year 1679, and having assembled a very formidable Force, the Duke of Monmouth was sent down to suppress them, and giving the Rebels Battle at Bothwell-Bridge on the 22d of June, totally defeated them, taking a great Number of Prisoners, among whom were several of the Murderers of the Archbishop of St. Andrews; and returning to Court in Triumph, appeared at that Time very high in the King's Favour. Nor was he less in the Favour of the People, on his appearing at the Head of what was called the Protestant Party, and shewing an uncommon Zeal against those who were accused of the Popish Plot; but the King falling sick, and the Duke of York being sent for over from the Netherlands, and finding the Duke of Monmouth had render'd himself exceeding popular, was apprehensive of his having an Eye upon the Crown: He procured him therefore to be dismissed from all his Places, and sent abroad; but the King recovering from his Illness, thought it convenient also that the Duke of York should return to Flanders before the Meeting of the Parliament. The Duke of York thereupon resided at Brussels, and the Duke of Monmouth at Utrecht; but the Duke of Monmouth on a sudden returned from Holland, without the King's Leave, and arriving at London on the 27th of November, about Midnight, the Watch gave Notice of it in the several Wards. The People thereupon immediately illuminated their Houses, rang the Bells, and made Bonfires, as if it had been for some notable Victory; but the Duke of Monmouth coming over over without the King's Leave, did not think fit to attend the Court; and soon after his Friends the Lords Shaftsbury, Russel, and several other Persons of Distinction, presented the Duke of York as a Refusant at the Bar of the Court of King's-Bench; which made the Duke of York their professed Enemy. The King calling the next Parliament to meet at Oxford, the Duke of Monmouth, the Earl of Essex, and several other Lords, petitioned his Majesty that the Parliament might not sit at Oxford, where they suggested the Houses could not act with Freedom; but that he would be pleased to order them to sit at Westminster, the usual Place, where they might consult and act with Safety. This Petition was sign'd

The King frowned on the Petitioners, and gave them no Answer; and, on the 21st of March, 1680-81, the Parliament met at Oxford, and a Bill was brought into the House for excluding the Duke of York from the Crown, and securing the Nation against a Popish Successor, read the first Time, on the 28th of March, 1681, and ordered a second Reading. Whereupon the King came to the House, and made a Speech, wherein he observed, That their Beginnings were such, that he could expect no good Success from their Debates, and therefore dissolved them; and a Plot, denominated the Ryehouse-Plot, being discovered at this Time, the Earls of Shaftsbury and Essex, Lord Russel, Colonel Sydney, and several more, were taken into Custody, as Conspirators, and soon after the Duke of Monmouth; but the Duke was admitted to Bail, and the King being satisfied atisfied he was not concerned in that Part of the Plot relating to the Ryehouse, granted his Grace a Pardon, who thereupon went over to Holland, where he remained till the Death of King Charles II, which happened on the 6th of February, 1684-5.

The Duke of Monmouth being strongly possessed with an Opinion that his Mother was married to King Charles II, and that consequently he had an undoubted Right to the British Crown, advised with the Earl of Argyle, and the rest of his Friends in Holland, on the Feasableness of making a Descent in England, and asserting his Right to that Throne. They were pretty unanimous as to the Probability of Success, the Duke being so exceeding popular, and the Nation generally jealous of the King's Design to introduce Popery; only one Party were of Opinion, that things were not yet ripe; that it were better to wait till the King had made some Advances towards the Alteration of Religion, and the People's Fears of Popery heightened. Others insisted, that they were more likely to succeed if they made the Attempt before the King was well settled on his Throne, and while the Duke's Interest was so considerable in England; but the Earl of Argyle being for an immediate Descent, and embarking in order to make a Diversion in the Duke's Favour in Scotland, it was carried for an immediate Descent upon England; whereupon the Duke hired a Frigate of thirty-two Guns, and three small Tenders, one of which was detained by the Dutch, on the English Minister (Skelton) applying to the States to prevent these Ships sailing. However the Duke proceeded in his Voyage with the Frigate and two Tenders, and, after a tedious stormy Passage, arrived at Lime, in Dorsetshire, the 11th of June, 1685, his whole Force not amounting to two hundred Men, including Officers; but having brought over Arms for five thousand more, and great Numbers of the Country-People joining him, his Forces soon became very formidable, the Militia constantly flying before him.

From

From Lime the Duke marched cross the Country to Taunton-Dean, in Somersetshire, where he caused himself to be proclaimed King, and set a Price upon the King's Head, as the King had upon the Duke's, and caused him to be attainted of High-Treason in the Parliament, which was then sitting. Whereupon the Duke, in his Declaration, called the Parliament a seditious Assembly, and advancing afterwards to Bridgwater, he continued his March towards Bath and Bristol; but receiving Advice that a Body of regular Troops was in full March for the West, he thought proper to retire to Bridgwater again, where he had lain but a very little while before the King's Forces arrived within three or four Miles of that Town, commanded by the Earl of Feverſham and Lord Churchill, afterwards Marlborough, who encamped on Sedgmore; of which the Duke receiving Advice, and being at the same Time informed that the Officers fell to drinking every Evening, and continued at it till Morning, and that their Outguards were very negligent in their Duty, he formed a Design to surprise the Camp of the Royalists in the Night-time; but his Guides, either through Ignorance or Treachery, led the Duke's Forces a great way round about, insomuch that it was broad Day-light when they arrived at the Camp of the Royalists, whom they found ready to receive them. However the Duke's Foot fought very bravely, and bid fair for the Victory, till the Lord Gray, who commanded the Horse, abandoned the Infantry, and left the Field; or rather, he found his Cavalry, which consisted only of Country Fellows, whose Horses would not stand fire, were soon put into Confusion, when they were charged by regular Troops, whereupon a total Rout succeeding, the Duke endeavoured to make his Escape; but was taken the next Day, and being brought up to Town, was suffered to see the King, and beg his Life; but was however executed on Tower-hill on Wednesday the 15th of July, 1685. But surely never was the Death of any Prince more lamented by the People, who would not be persuaded.

suaded he was dead, but remained in Expectation of seeing him appear in Arms again, for some Years.

His Lordship married, on the 21st of March, 1720-21, the Lady Dorothy Savile, eldest Daughter and Co-heir of William Savile, Marquis of Hallifax, by whom he has had Issue, three Daughters, viz.

2. Lady Juliana, born the 21st of April, 1727, and died the 11th of March, 1730-31.

3. Lady Charlotte, born in the Year 1731, married to the Right Hon. William Marquis of Hartington.

ten, eldest Son of his Grace the Duke of Devonshire, and has Issue, William Lord Cavendish, his Son; and a Daughter, born August 17, 1750.

Charles Boyle, Earl of Burlington, Father of the present Earl, married Juliana, Daughter and sole Heir to the Hon. Henry Noel, second Son of Edward Viscount Camden, and dying February 9, 1703-4, left Issue,

1. Richard, the present Earl.
2. Lady Elizabeth, married on the 28th of August, 1719, to Sir Henry Bedingfield, of Oxborough in Norfolk, Bart.
3. Lady Juliana, married to Charles Lord Bruce, late Earl of Aylesbury, and died in March, 1738.
4. Lady Jane, unmarried.
5. Lady Harriot, married to the Hon. Henry Boyle, of Castle-Martyr; she is since dead. The said Henry Boyle is now Speaker of the House of Commons in Ireland. Also,
6. Mary, and,
7. Catharine, the third Daughter, who died in their Infancy.

This noble Earl is descended from Lodowick Boyle, of the County of Hereford, who flourished in the Reign of King Henry III, and from the famous Richard Earl of Cork, born in the Year 1566, who was, in 1629, made Lord Treasurer of Ireland. He preserved the County of Cork in a great Measure on the breaking out of the Rebellion in Ireland, when the Protestants were massacred in the Year 1641. He is allowed to have been one of the most extraordinary Persons that Age produced, if we regard the publick Works he erected, such as Churches, Hospitals, Free-Schools, Bridges, Towns, and Castles, whereby he greatly advanced the English Protestant Interest in Ireland; and notwithstanding he acquired a vast Estate, he lived the most hospitably of any Nobleman in the Kingdom. He died in the Year 1643, having taken the following Motto, which was engraved on his Tomb, viz. God's Providence is our Inheritance.

The

The Hon. Robert Boyle, also a younger Son of this noble Family, is celebrated for his Knowledge in the Mathematicks, Geometry, Geography, History, and Physick; but chiefly for his History of Nature; of the Production, Virtues, and Improvements of Plants, Ores, and Minerals, which enabled him to make more Experiments than any Man of the Age: But the Study he most delighted in was Chemistry, which he engaged in, purely to make Discoveries in Nature, and to find of what Principles things were compounded, and into what they might be resolved in order to prepare useful Medicaments. His Knowledge and Performances in this way, and his numerous Essays in Print are in high Esteem in every Country of Europe.

He, for many Years, studied the Holy Scriptures in the original Languages; and his chief Design, in all his Enquiries into Nature, was to raise in himself and others higher Thoughts of the Power, Wisdom, and Goodness of God. By a Clause in his Will he recommended to the Royal Society, and other Searchers into Physical Truths, to refer their Attainments to the Glory of the great Author of Nature, and the Comfort of Mankind.

He left, by his Will, a liberal Revenue for a certain Number of Sermons to be preached, to evince the Truth of the Christian Religion, without touching upon controversial Points, or the Divisions among Christians (which continue still to be preached at St. Paul's) and are usually stiled Boyle's Lectures.

He was at the Charge of a Translation and Impression of the New Testament in the Malayan Language, for the Use of the Natives of the East-Indies: He gave seven hundred Pounds towards the Charge of the Irish Bible, sent to the Highlands in Scotland; and contributed liberally towards the Welsh Bible. He gave, in his Life-time, three hundred Pounds for propagating the Christian Religion in America. He was a Member of the Church of England; but very liberal to Dissenters. He declared against all Opinions that were destructive of Morality.

and Charity, and particularly against Persecution on account of Religion. His Charity to deserving Men in Want, and his Bounty to learned necessitous Men, was very considerable; and for many Years his charitable Donations amounted to one thousand Pounds per Annum. Nor did he always let the Persons he relieved know who was their Benefactor.

His Lordship married, on the 12th of March, 1724-5, the Lady Susan Noel, Sister to Baptist Earl of Gainsborough, by whom he hath no Issue.

Anthony late Earl of Shaftesbury, Father of the present Earl, was born the 26th of February, 1670. He married, in 1709, Jane, Daughter of Thomas Ewer, of Busby-Hall in Hertfordshire, Esq; by whom he had Issue, Anthony, the present Earl, his only Son.

This

This noble Earl is descended from Richard Cooper, who flourished in the Reign of King Henry VIII., and purchased the Manor of Paulet, in the County of Somerset, of which the Family are still Proprietors. But his Ancestor who makes the greatest Figure in History is, Sir Anthony Ashley Cooper, who was afterwards created Earl of Shaftesbury, and constituted Lord High Chancellor of England. He is generally admired for his great Parts and Learning. He was a Student of Exeter-College, in Oxford, from whence he removed to Grey's-Inn, one of the Inns of Court, where he made a considerable Proficiency in the Study of the Law. He was elected Member of Parliament for Tokesbury in Glocestershire, in the Parliament that met at Westminster the 13th of April, 1640; being then about twenty-five Years of Age. In the Beginning of the Civil War, 'tis said he raised a Regiment for the Service of King Charles I. being then Sheriff of the County of Dorset, and made Governor of Weymouth in that County; but Colonel William Ashburnham being made Governor of the County of Dorset, whereby Weymouth became dependant on him, Sir Anthony, imagining that his Loyalty was suspected, came up to London, and offered his Service to that Part of the Parliament which sat there, who gave him a Regiment of Horse, and the Command of all their Forces in Dorsetshire. But notwithstanding he appeared a hearty Champion in the Cause of the Parliament, he seems to have opposed Cromwell's Usurpation with great Spirit; whereupon Sir Anthony, and above a hundred more of the same Stamp, being kept out of the House of Commons by Force, published a Remonstrance, setting forth that the Protector had assumed absolute and arbitrary Power, and that every Man ought to assist in opposing it. That the small Number of Members he suffered to remain in the House could not pretend to be the Representatives of the People; they were not entrusted to consent to any thing in behalf of the Nation, if the rest were excluded from sitting and debating Matters in the House; which had such an

Influence

Influence on the next Convention the Protector called, that they began to question his Authority; whereupon he dissolved them, and ever after discountenanced and oppressed the Presbyterian and Republican Party. Whereupon Sir Anthony and his Friends began to turn their Eyes upon the King, believing his Restoration would prove a less Evil than the tyrannical Government they were under; and as the King's Circumstances were very low at this Time, and he appeared forsaken by all the Princes of Europe, they did not doubt but they should get the Presbyterian Sect established, and the Prerogatives of the Crown considerably reduced, if they engaged to assist him in his Restoration. After the Death of Cromwell, the Rump Parliament appointed him one of their Council of State, and a Commissioner for managing the Affairs of their Army, which did not divert him from his Design of restoring the King, 'tis said; and, in the Year 1659, he was accused before the Rump of keeping a Correspondence with his Majesty, and raising Men to join Sir George Booth for that End; for which he was imprisoned, with a great many other Men of Figure. He was, however, acquitted of the Charge, and afterwards entrusted by the Rump with the Command of a Regiment of Horse, being one of the first which declared for General Monk and a free Parliament; and, when the Convention had declared for the King, he was one of the twelve Members sent by that House to the King, with six Peers, to invite his Majesty to return and take the Government of the Kingdom upon him: Whereupon the King, with this Committee of Parliament, embark'd for England, and arrived at Dover the 25th of May, 1660, and coming to Canterbury the next Day, General Monk, and Sir Anthony Ashley Cooper, were sworn of the Privy-Council; and Sir Anthony was afterwards appointed one of the Commissioners for the Trial of the Regicides; and, three Days before the Coronation, he was created Baron Ashley of Winbourne St. Giles's; soon after he was constituted Chacellor and Under-Treasurer surer of the Exchequer; and, in May, 1667, he was constituted one of the Commissioners of the Treasury. In 1672 he was created Lord Cooper of Parwlet, in the County of Somerset, and constituted Lord High Chancellor of England.

One of the most remarkable Speeches he made in the House of Peers, when he was Lord Chancellor, was that in relation to the Dutch War, in which he suggests, that the Hollanders were our greatest Enemies in point of Trade, and therefore ought to be extirpated; Delenda est Carthago were his Words. He advised his Majesty also to issue his Declaration for the Indulgence of the Dissenters, which the Parliament resolved was a dispensing with the Penal Laws; and yet, when the Matter came to be debated in the House of Lords, none censured it more severely. On the other Hand, it is said, he promoted the Test for rendring Papists incapable of enjoying any Office or Place of Trust, which obliged the Duke of York to lay down his Post of High Admiral, and all the other Places he held; which the Court resenting, the Seals were taken from Lord Shaftesbury, and he became as strenuous an Opposer of the Court, as ever he had been an Advocate for its Measures.

He was, however, constituted President of the Council in April, 1679; but continuing his Opposition to the Duke of York, and endeavouring to get him excluded from the Crown, he was laid aside again in March following, and became exceeding popular among the Presbyterian and Republican Party; and no Man prosecuted those who were charged with the Popish Plot with greater Violence: But his Enemies rendring him suspected of being in a Plot of another Nature, he thought fit to retire to Holland, where he died on the 22d of January, 1682-3.

He had married three Wives, 1. Margaret, Daughter of Thomas Lord Coventry, by whom he had no Children. 2. The Lady Frances, Daughter of David Earl of Exeter, by whom he had his Son Anthony, afterwards

3. Lady Louisa, born Anno 1714; married, in 1733, to Thomas Lord Viscount Weymouth. See Weymouth Viscount.

4. Lady Georgina Carolina, born Anno 1716, married to the late Hon. John Spencer, Brother to the Duke of Marlborough; and since to the Right Hon. William Earl Cowper.

His Lordship married to his second Wife Lady Sophia, eldest Daughter of Thomas Fermer, Earl of Pomfret, Anno 1744, and has Issue, a Daughter, named Sophia, born Anno 1745, of whom his Lady died in Child-bed.

His Lordship was appointed Ambassador-Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary to the Queen of Sweden, Anno 1718, and arrived at Stockholm the 30th of June, 1719, where he offered the King of Great Britain's Mediation to the Queen, in order to make Peace between Sweden and Denmark, and between Sweden and the Czar of Muscovy, which she accepted, and a Treaty between Sweden, Prussia, and Hanover was proclaimed at Stockholm on the 9th of March, 1719-20. He had the Honour of concluding the Peace also between Denmark and Sweden, in 1720.

His Lordship returning to England, was, on the Death of James Craggs, Esq; Secretary of State, on the 5th of March, 1720-1, advanced to that Post.

The Duke of Newcastle succeeding Lord Carteret in his Office of Secretary of State, April 3, 1724, his Lordship was constituted Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.

His Lordship continuing Lord Lieutenant of Ireland until the Death of his late Majesty, in 1727, he was continued in that Post by his present Majesty, and remained Lord Lieutenant until the 19th of June, 1730, when he was succeeded by his Grace the Duke of Dorset.

Lord Carteret had no public Employment from the Year 1730 to 1741, when he was again declared Principal Secretary of State.

His Lordship being one of the eight noble Lords who were Proprietors of Carolina, and his Majesty having purchased the Shares of seven of them, Lord Carteret's eighth Part was set out by Commissioners, who allotted him that Part of North Carolina which lies contiguous to Virginia, which was confirmed to him by his Majesty.

Lord Carteret resigning the Seals on the 24th of November, 1744, William Earl of Harrington was constituted Principal Secretary of State in his Stead.

The Family of Carteret is of Norman Extraction, and had their Surname from the Signiory or Lordship of Carteret, in Normandy. In the Annals of Normandy, and the History of the Holy Wars, there is honourable Mention made of the Lords of the House of Carteret.

George Lord Carteret, Father of the present Earl, married the Lady Grace Granville, youngest Daughter of John Earl of Bath, who died in September, 1695, leaving one Daughter and three Sons:

1. Lady Jemima, who died unmarried, Anno 1733.
2. George, the eldest, died an Infant.
3. John, his second Son, now Earl of Granville.
4. Philip, his third Son, died in the 19th Year of his Age, Anno 1710.

The Lady Grace, their Mother, in Consideration of the great Services of her Father John Granville, Earl of Bath, who was entrusted by King Charles II. to bring about the Restoration, was, by the late King George, in the first Year of his Reign, created Viscountess Carteret, and Countess of Granville, with Imitation of those Honours to John her Son, the present Earl, with Remainder of the Title of Viscount Carteret, to Edward Carteret, his Uncle, and the Heirs of his Body.

The Preamble to the Patent for creating Sir George Carteret, Bart. Father of the present Earl Granville, a Peer of this Realm, recites, That his Majesty King Charles II. designing to advance Sir George Carteret, late of Hawnes, in the County of Bedford, Knight and Baronet (he being descended of an ancient and worthy Family of that Name, which for many Ages past had flourished with much Reputation in the Island of Jersey) whom, by reason of his eminent Services to the late King (of blessed Memory) as also to himself, as Vice-Chamberlain of his Household, Treasurer of the Royal Navy, and one of his Most Honourable Privy-Council, he had constituted him Vice-Treasurer of Ireland, and Treasurer of the Military Forces there: All which Employments having managed with singular Prudence, Integrity, and Diligence, his Majesty intended to have made him a Peer of this Realm, had not his Death prevented it.

Whereas also Sir Philip Carteret, Knight, eldest Son to the said Sir George, imitating his Father's most loyal Example, lost his Life in his Service, in that memorable Sea-fight with the Dutch, which happened on Tuesday the 28th of May, 1672 (his Father then alive) leaving Issue, Sir George Carteret, of Hawnes, Baronet, Grandson and Heir to the above-specified Sir George: His Majesty, therefore, taking into Consideration the singular Merits of the Grandfather and Father, in Testimony of the real Service thereof (by Letters Patent, bearing Date the 19th Day of October, 1681, in the 23d Year of his Reign) advanced him to the Degree and Dignity of a Baron of this Realm, by the Title of Lord Carteret of Hawnes before specified, to hold and enjoy to himself, and the Heirs Male of his Body; and, in Default of such Issue, to Philip Carteret, his Brother, and the Heirs Male of his Body; and, for want of such Issue, to Edward Carteret, his other Brother, and the Heirs Male of his Body.

The Family of Granville have written their Names different Ways at different Periods; the original Name is held to have been Granville, which is now now resumed again, though at the Restoration it was written Greenville. There have been many brave and worthy Men of this Family, particularly Sir Richard Greenville, who, after having performed many gallant Enterprizes by Sea and Land, being surprized by the Spanish Armada near the Azores, An. 1591, fought the Spaniards fifteen Hours, though they had four Times his Force; in which Engagement he was mortally wounded, and being made Prisoner, died two Days after.

Sir Beville Greenville appears to have been as brave an Officer at Land, as the Admiral was at Sea. He was General in the West for King Charles I., where he performed many signal Services; and was killed, at length, in a general Engagement with Sir William Waller, at Lansdown, near Bath, on the 5th of July, 1643, just at the Time that Victory declared in his Favour.

This Family derive their Pedigree from the Granvilles of Normandy. Three Brothers of this Name attended William the Conqueror in his Descent upon England, and contributed to the Victory he obtained over King Harold, at Hastings in Suffex, in the Year 1066, and had several Manors and Lands in England conferred on them by that Prince, in Consideration of their eminent Services.
